Timeline: Where are we?

Redistricting Timeline

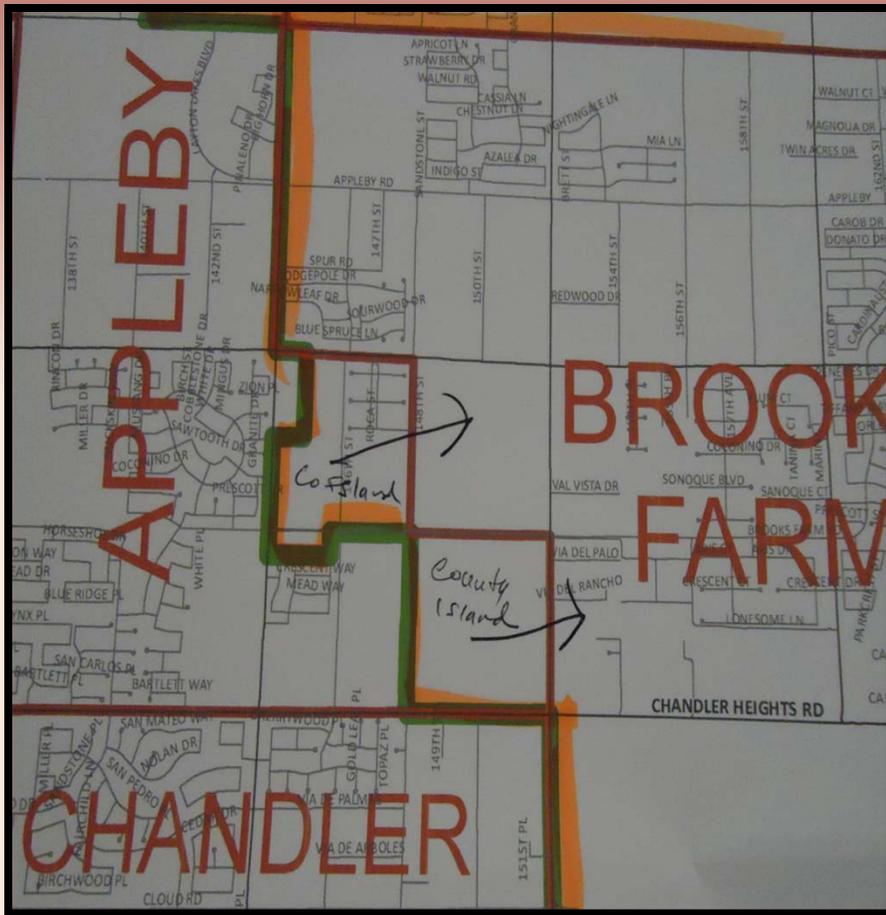

What are we looking at?

- Aerial maps with the new lines overlaid.
- Green=Legislative line
- Blue=Congressional line
- Red=Precinct line
- Purple box=GIS highlight
- Yellow=Census block

What are we looking at?

- The map that was completed in December was printed so that conflicts with lines within the county could be identified & shared with IRC.
- Hand-written notes are shown with possible resolutions.

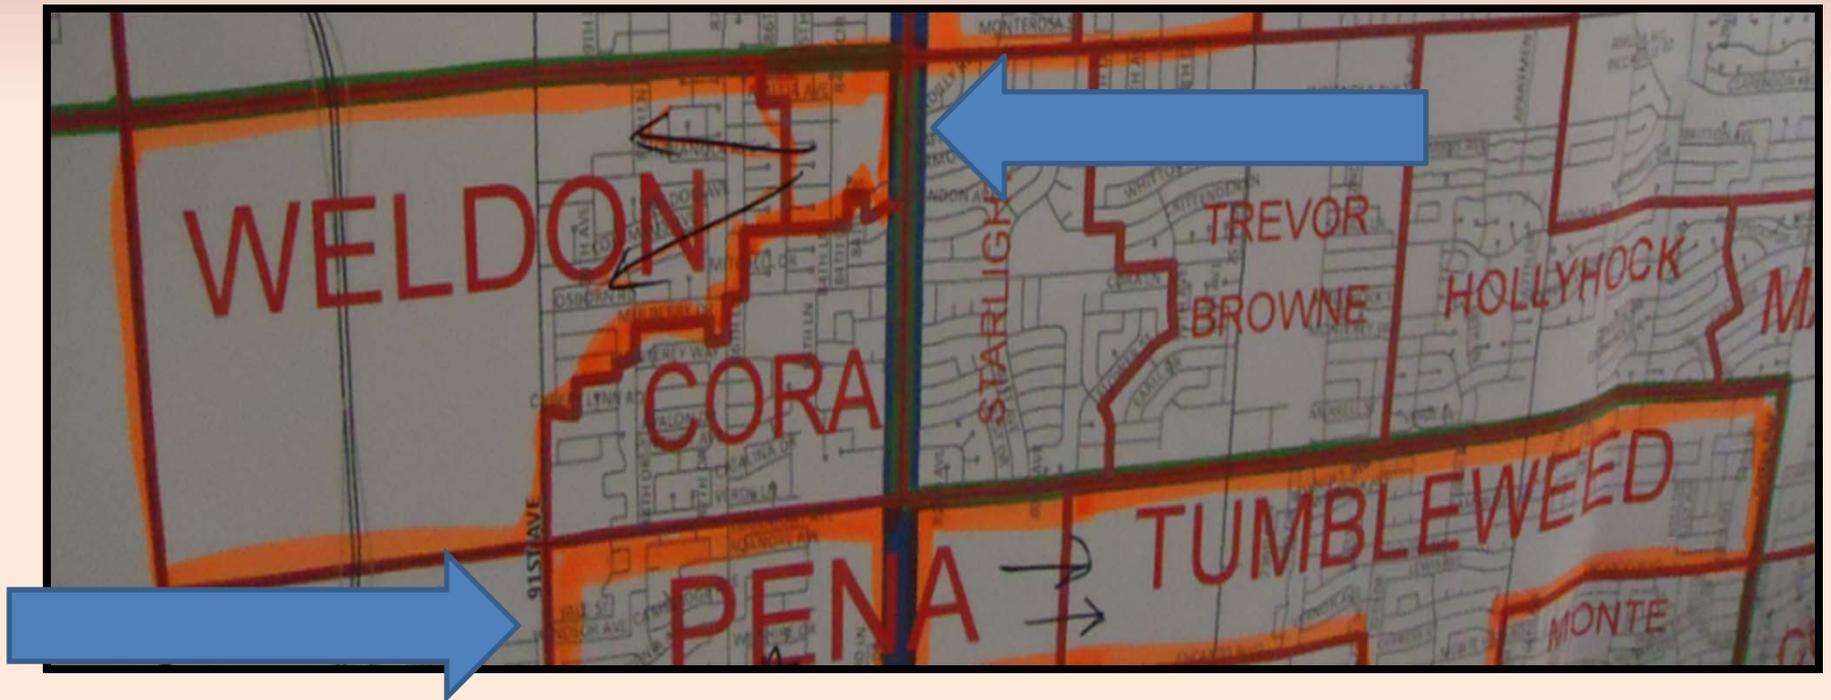

The GOOD

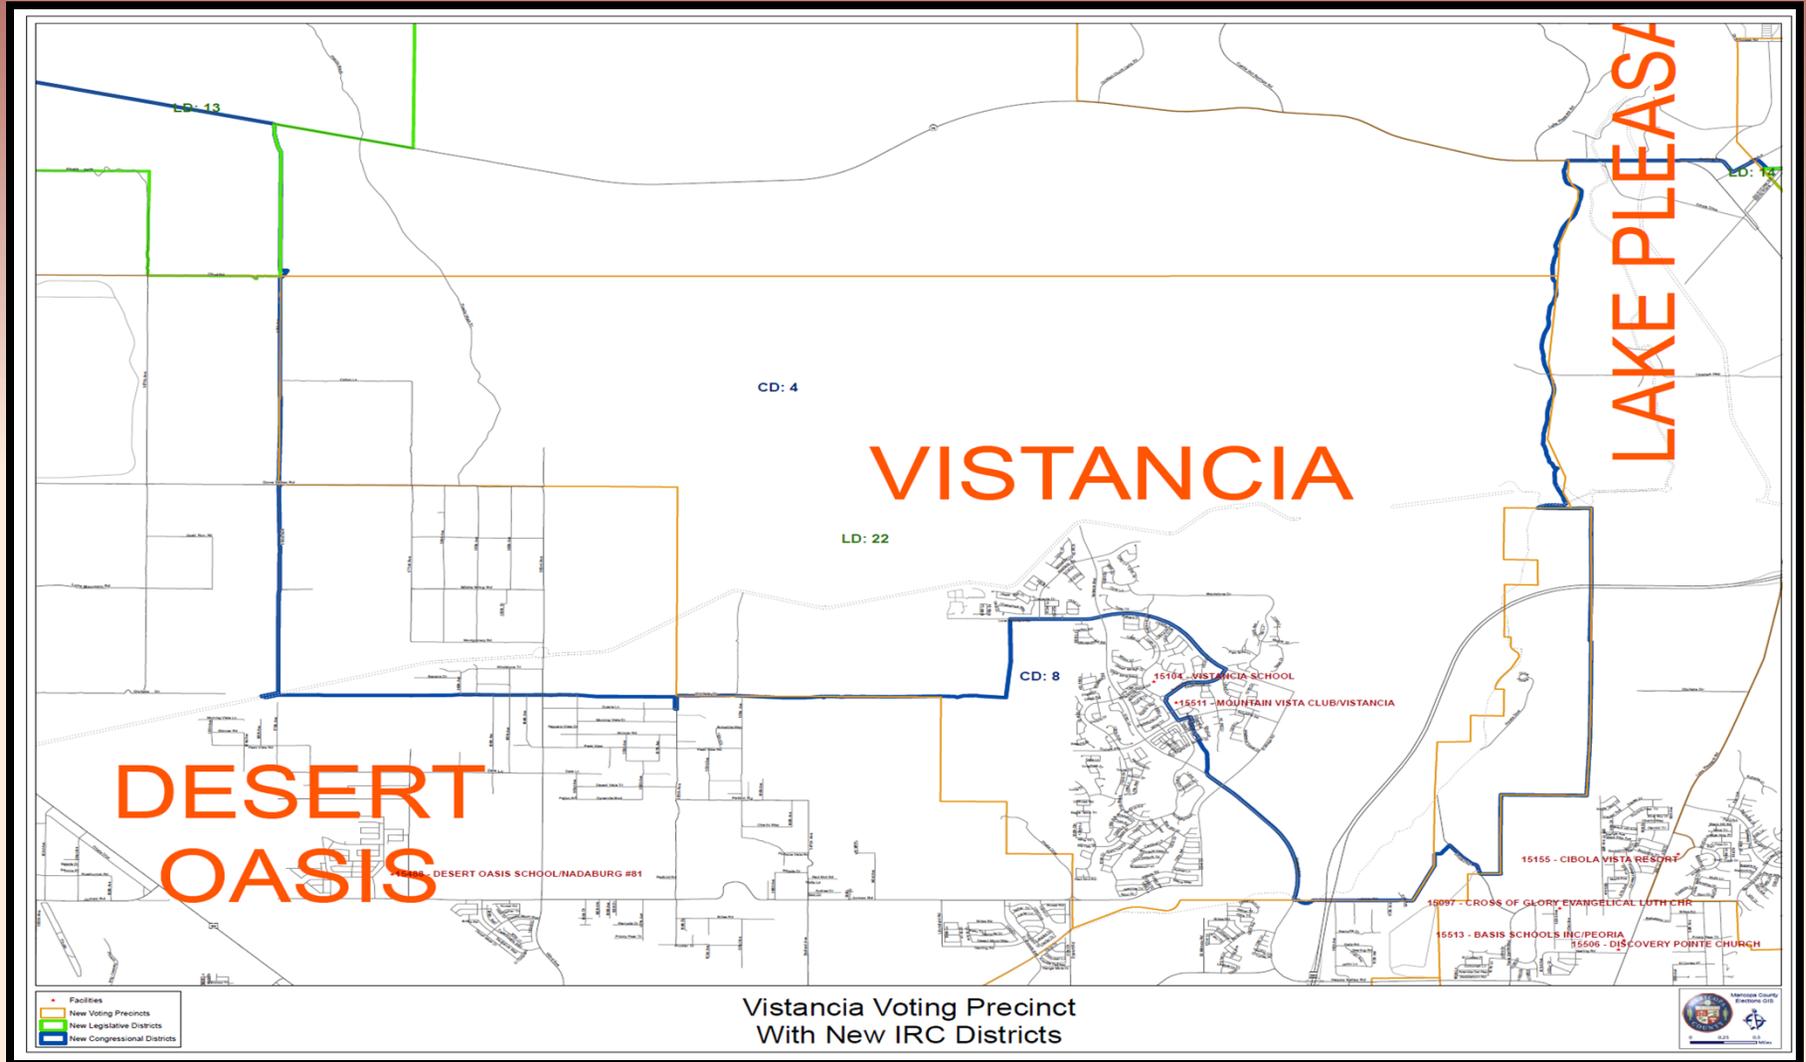

- We are able to clean up the lines of the sliver precincts along I17 with the move of the Leg line.

The Slight

- In some cases precincts are split so will have minor boundary changes to accommodate the new IRC lines:

Areas of Concern

REDISTRICTING 2012

Areas of Concern

VISTANCIA

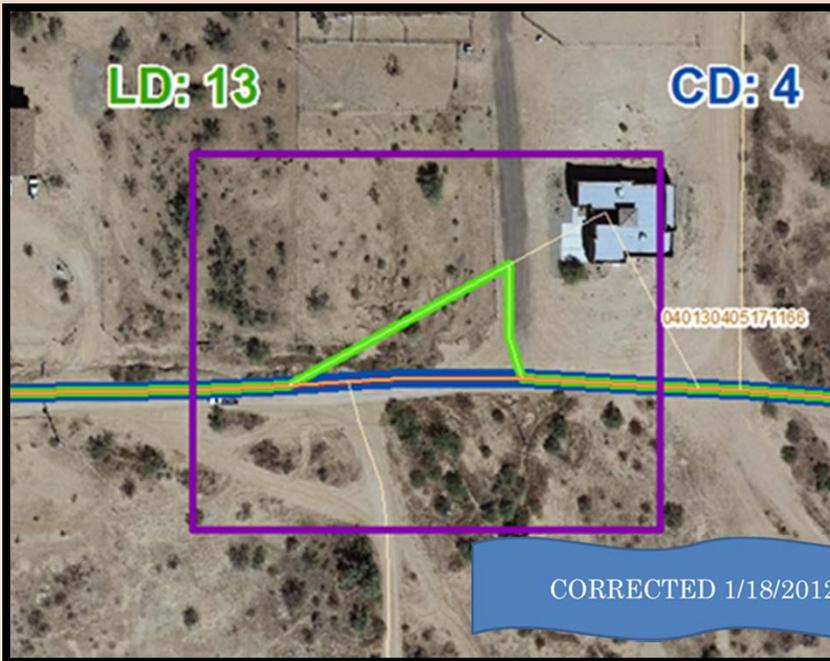

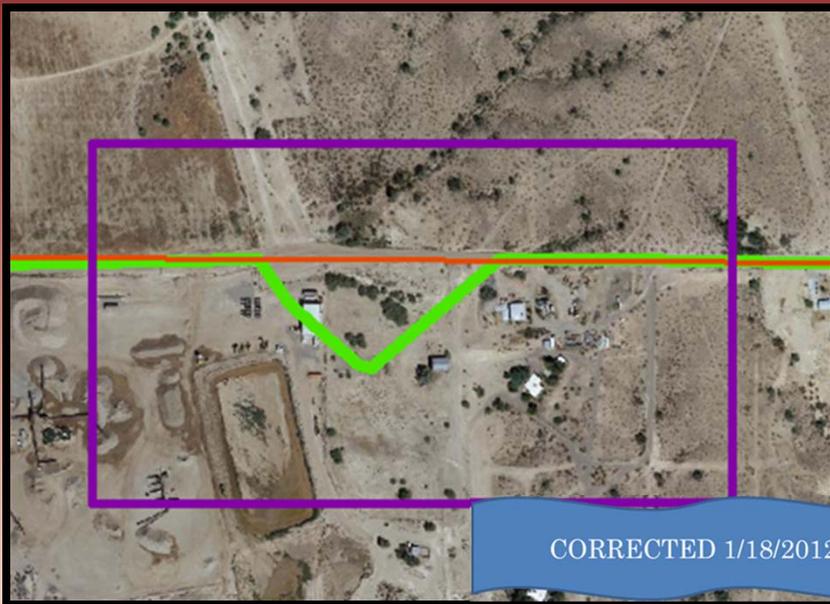

CD: 22

- Vistancia was split up but we (luckily) have a location to use as a polling place in both halves of the community.
- But voters on the northwest corner will drive past one location to get to their correct polling place.

Areas of Concern

- These quirky lines are reflective of Census block Tiger lines which are one option of lines to follow.
- These are the lines IRC used.

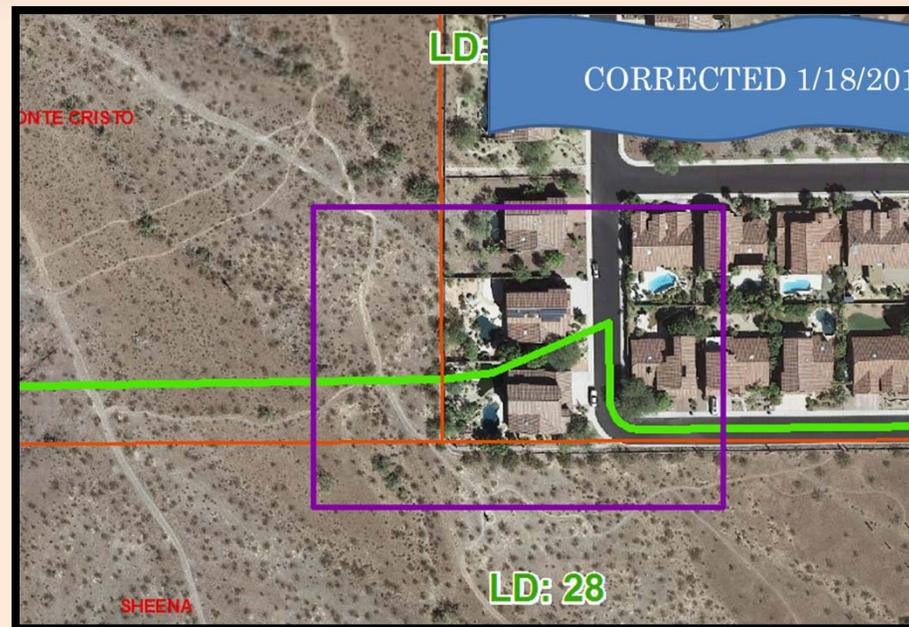

CORRECTED 1/18/2012!

Census

- Here is an example of selecting the better Tiger line when two are available.
- And the issue when there is only one:

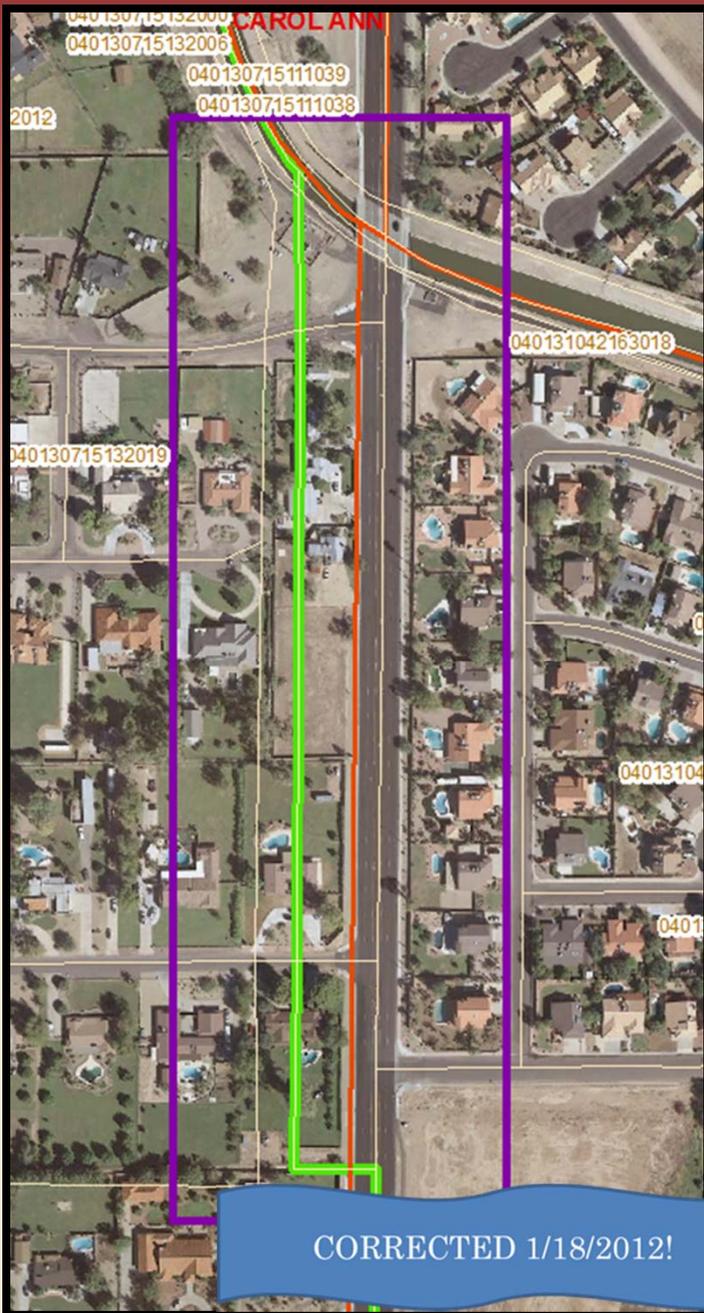

CORRECTED 1/18/2012!

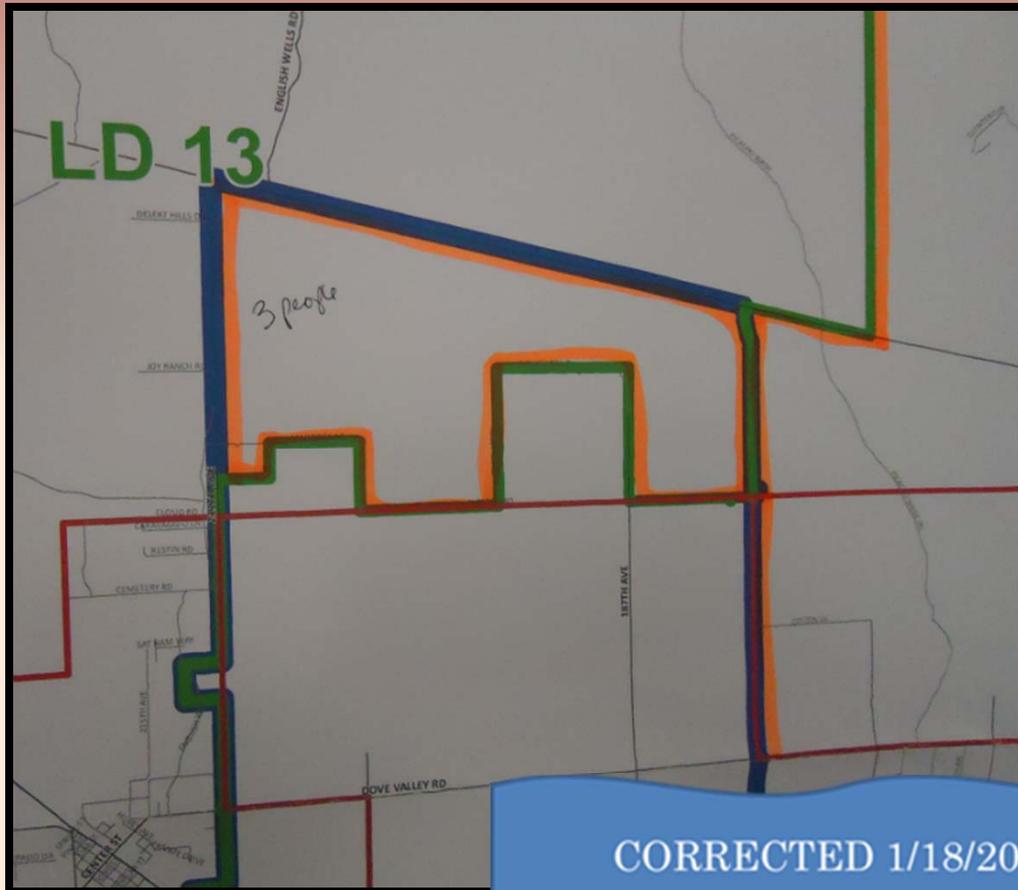

REDISTRICTING 2012

Choices

- Here is another case of multiple Census block lines to choose from.
- By looking at the lines overlaid on the aerial map it quickly becomes apparent which one not to select (see the green line...)

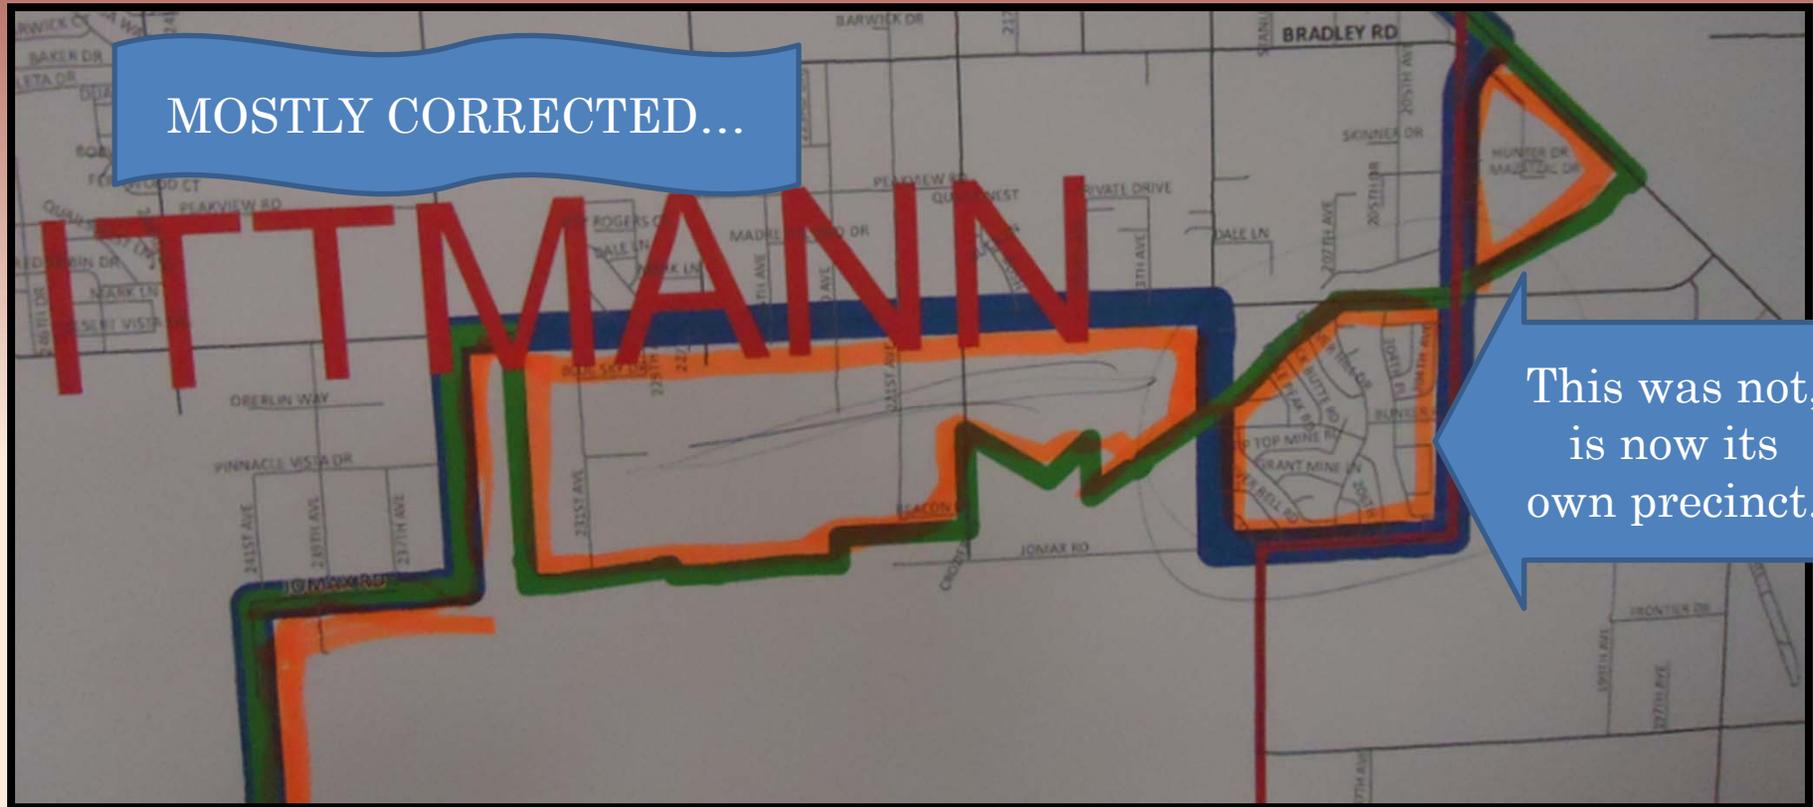

Areas of Concern

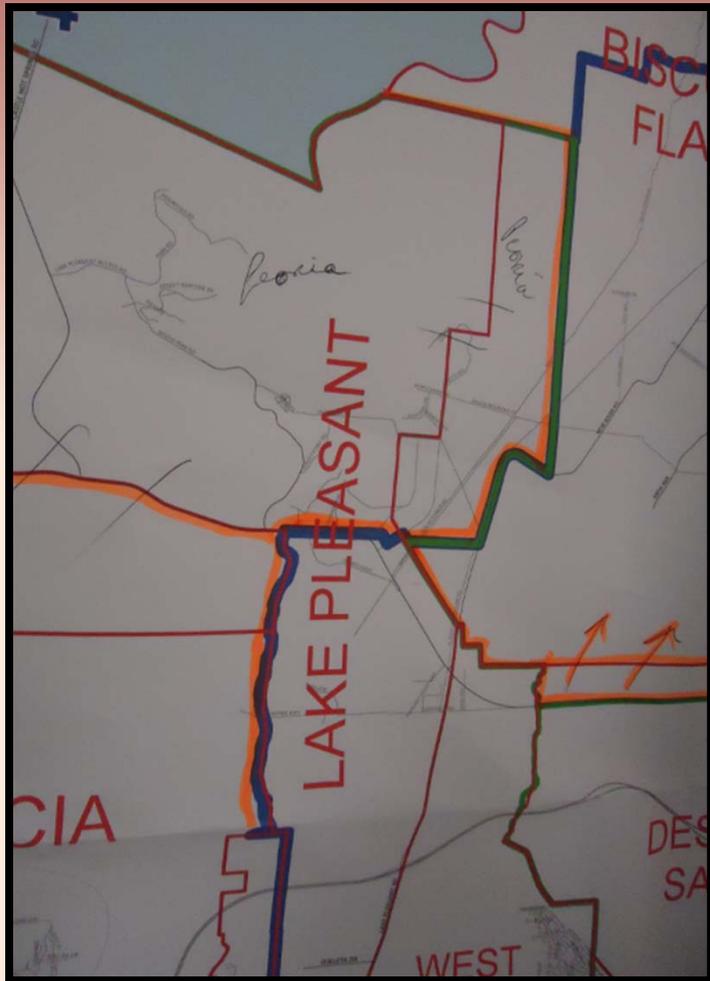

- This new precinct only has 3 voters in it.

Areas of Concern

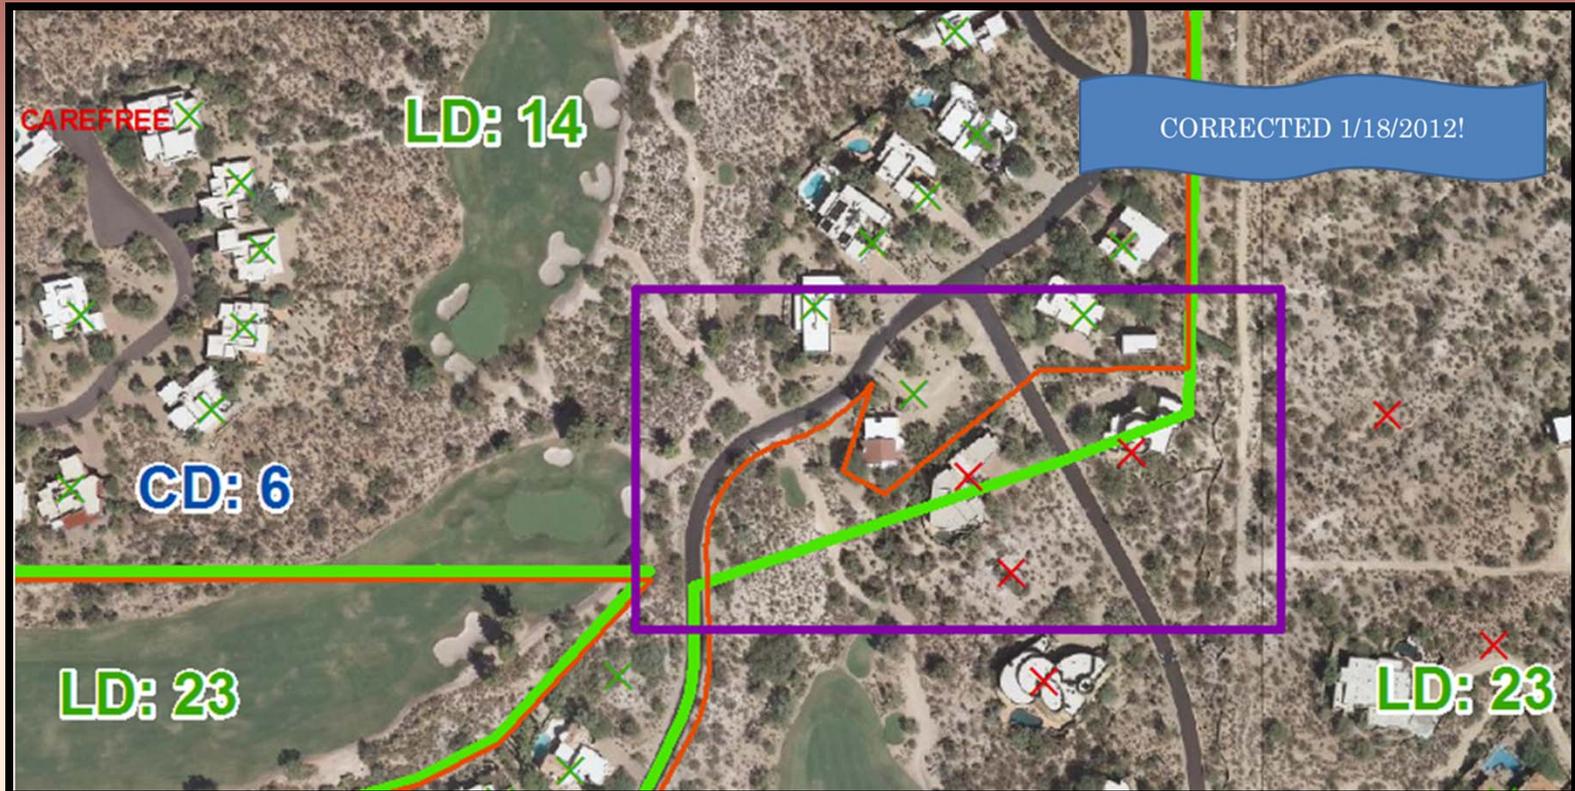

- Because the Leg and Congressional lines weave in and out of one another, these 3 precincts are created unnecessarily.

Areas of Concern

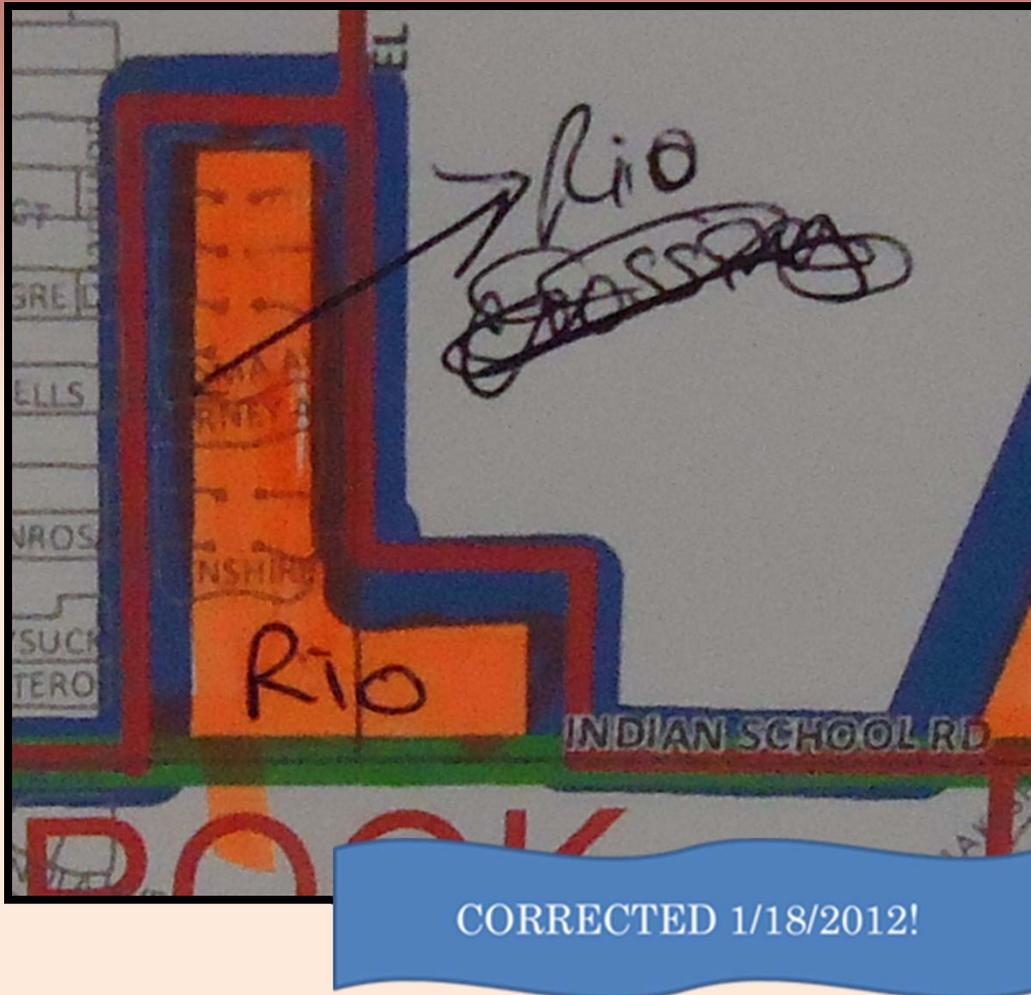

- The northern portion of Peoria is now in a different district than the rest of the city.
- However, there are no geographical issues with the lines.

Areas of Concern

- Because the lines are not coterminous, and the Leg line splits 2 houses.

Areas of Concern

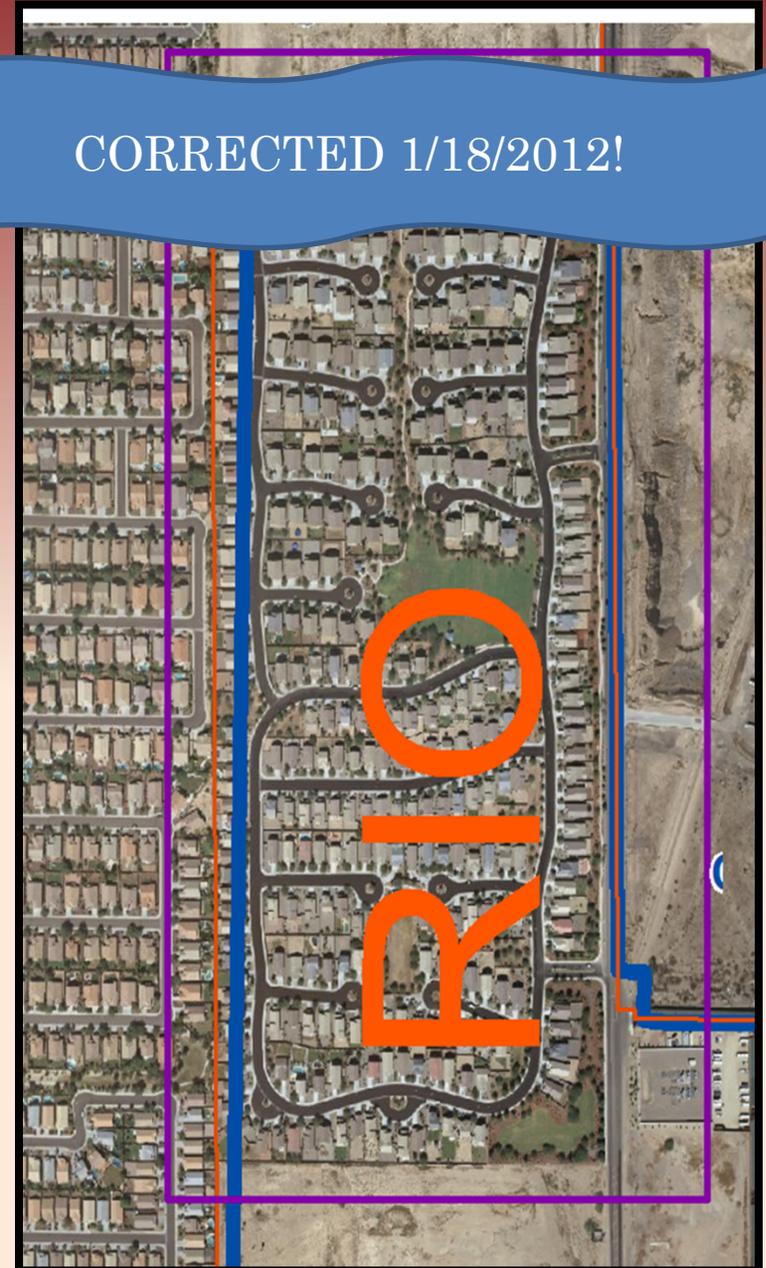

- Trap with just a few homes in it.
- This trap was later resolved, (on the final map), but another issue surfaced.

Front Porch or Back Deck?

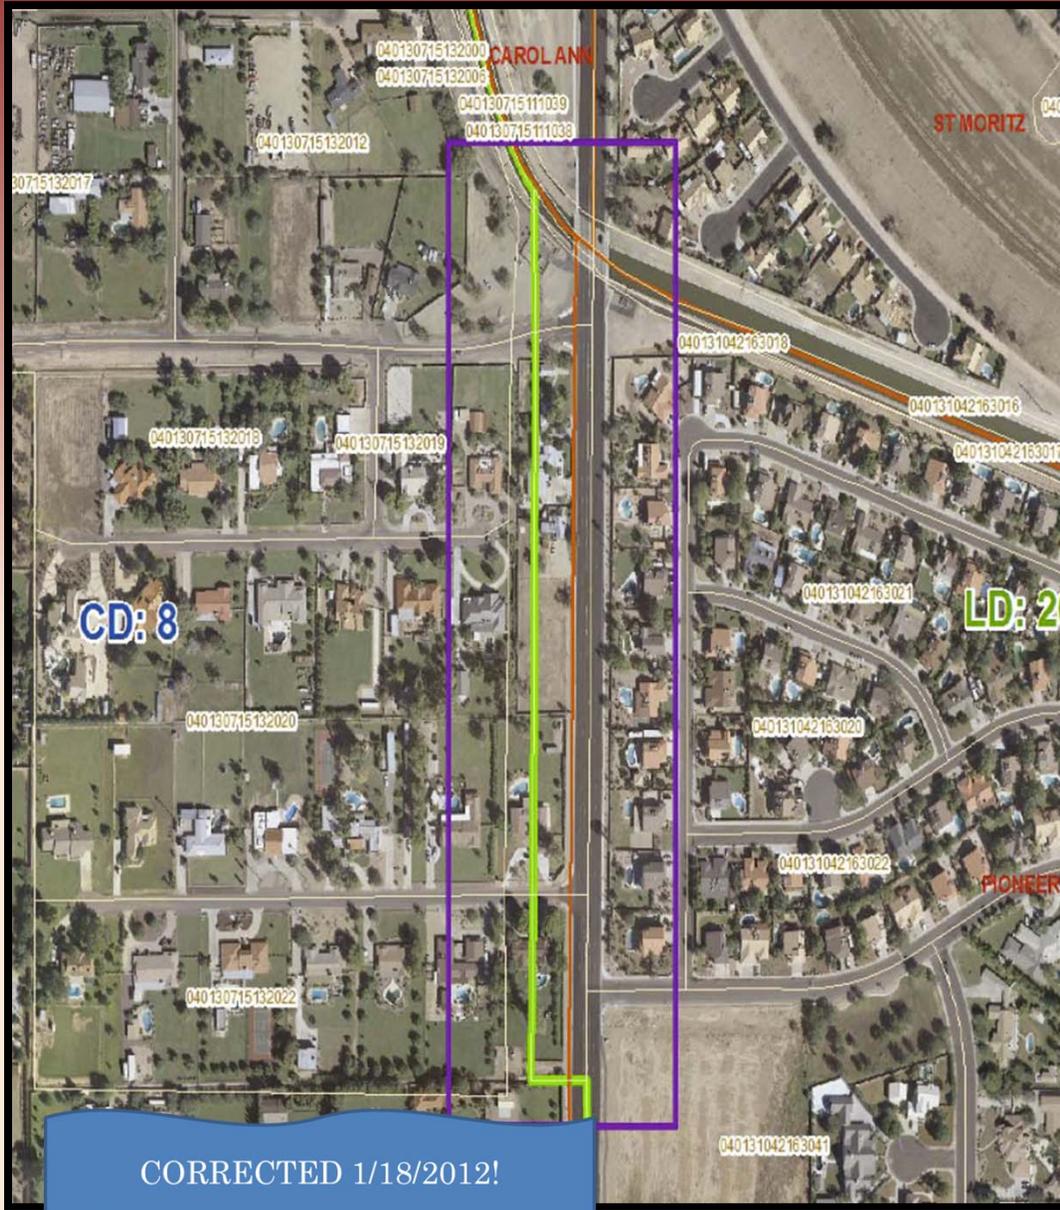

- Dozens of homes, all those on west-side of the precinct/district are split in half by the CD line (blue).
- But now this area will be part of the precinct to the south so they will have a polling place.

CORRECTED 1/18/2012!

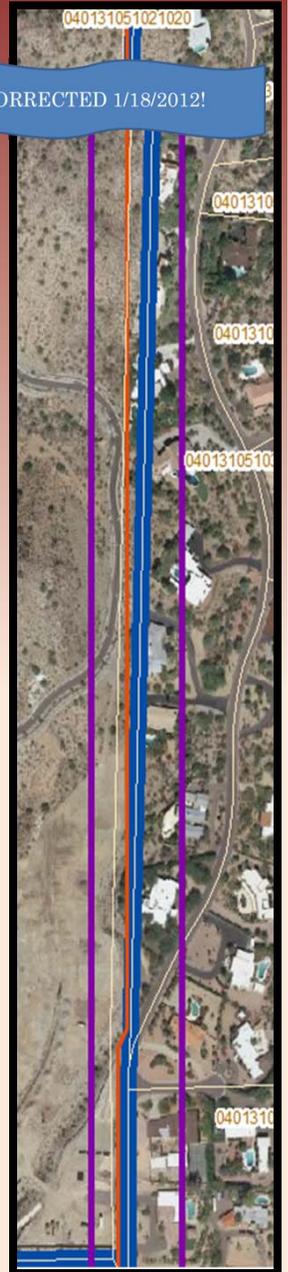

Front Porch or Back Deck? Trouble when following Census lines.

REDISTRICTING 2012

Census

- Each address was entered into the Census database to track which census block the house was allocated to.
- The inhabitants were then placed to the correct side of the line.

Census Lines

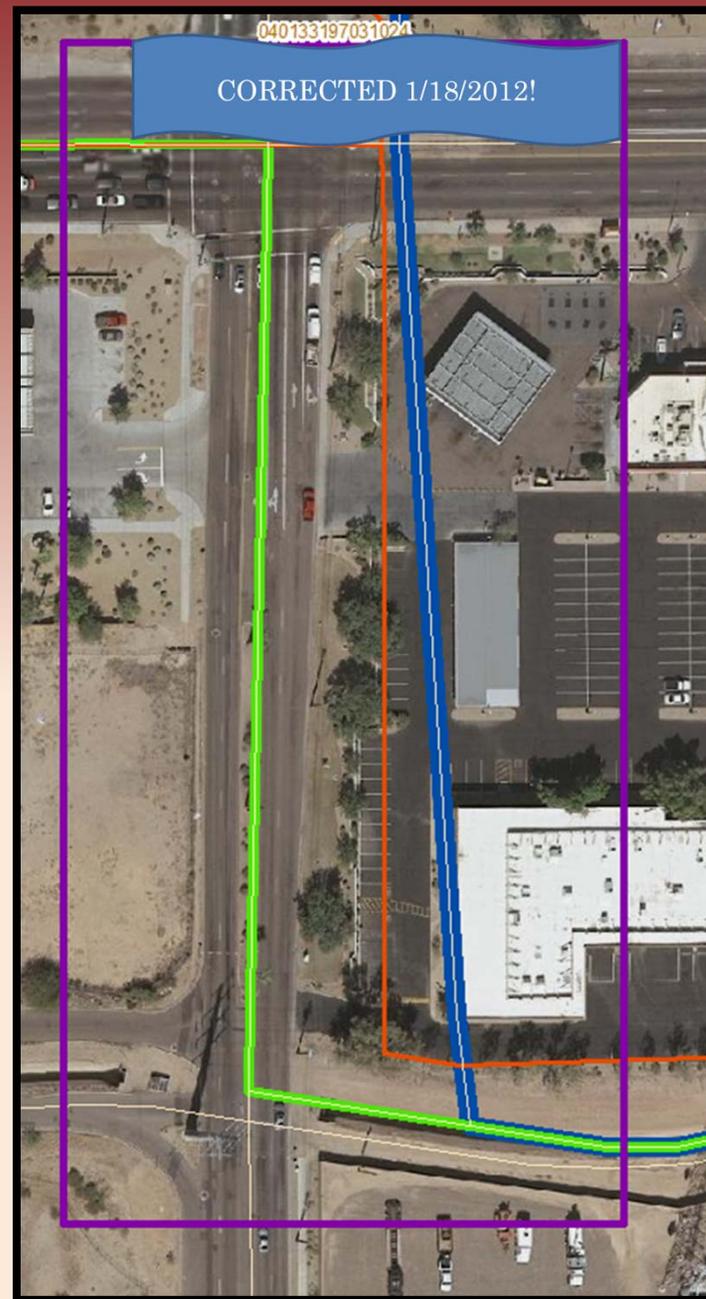

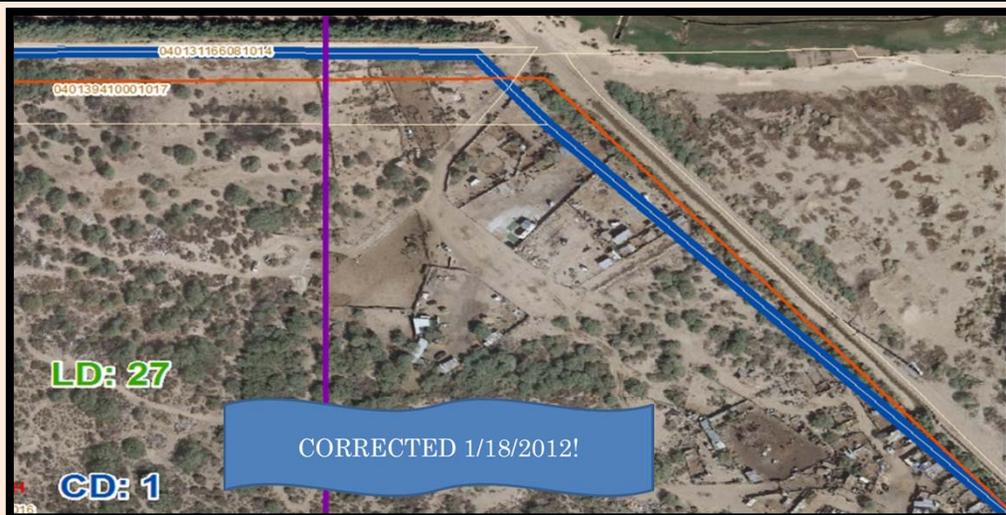

- Some of the Census Tiger lines may have been drawn through the desert long before there were any dwellings, or population, there.

- This is particularly problematic because it is a large apartment complex and this splits off the ends of two buildings:

REDISTRICTING 2012

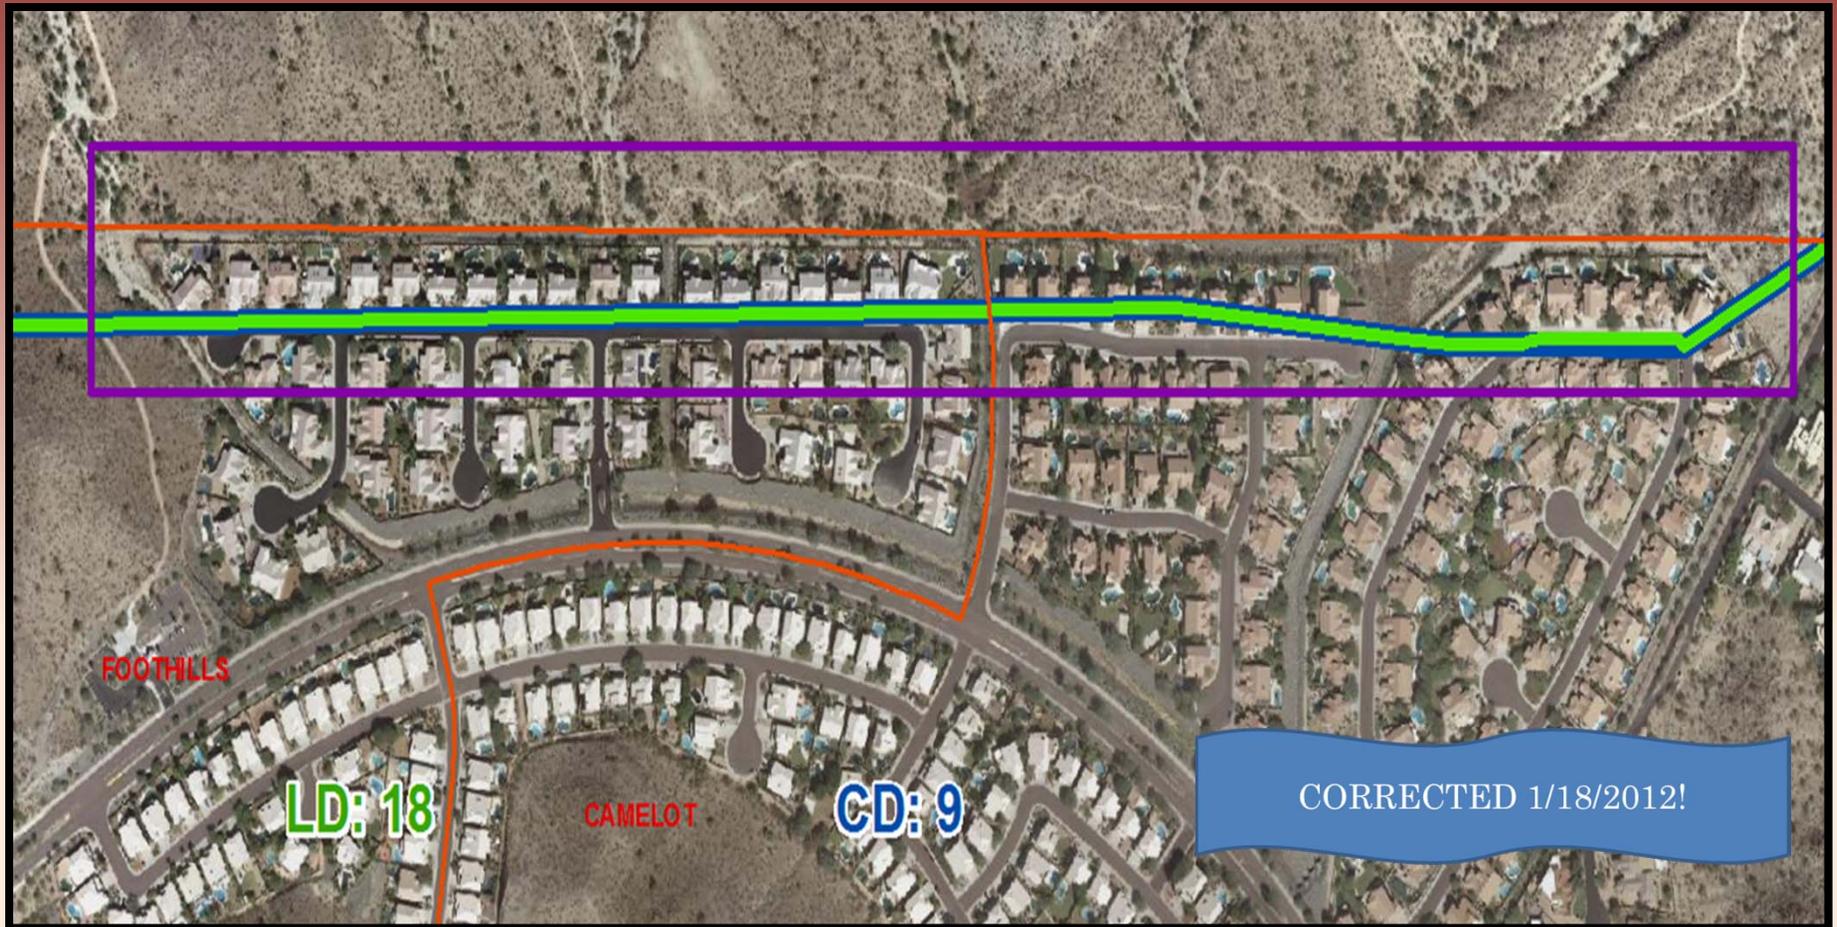

Census Lines

CORRECTED 1/18/2012!

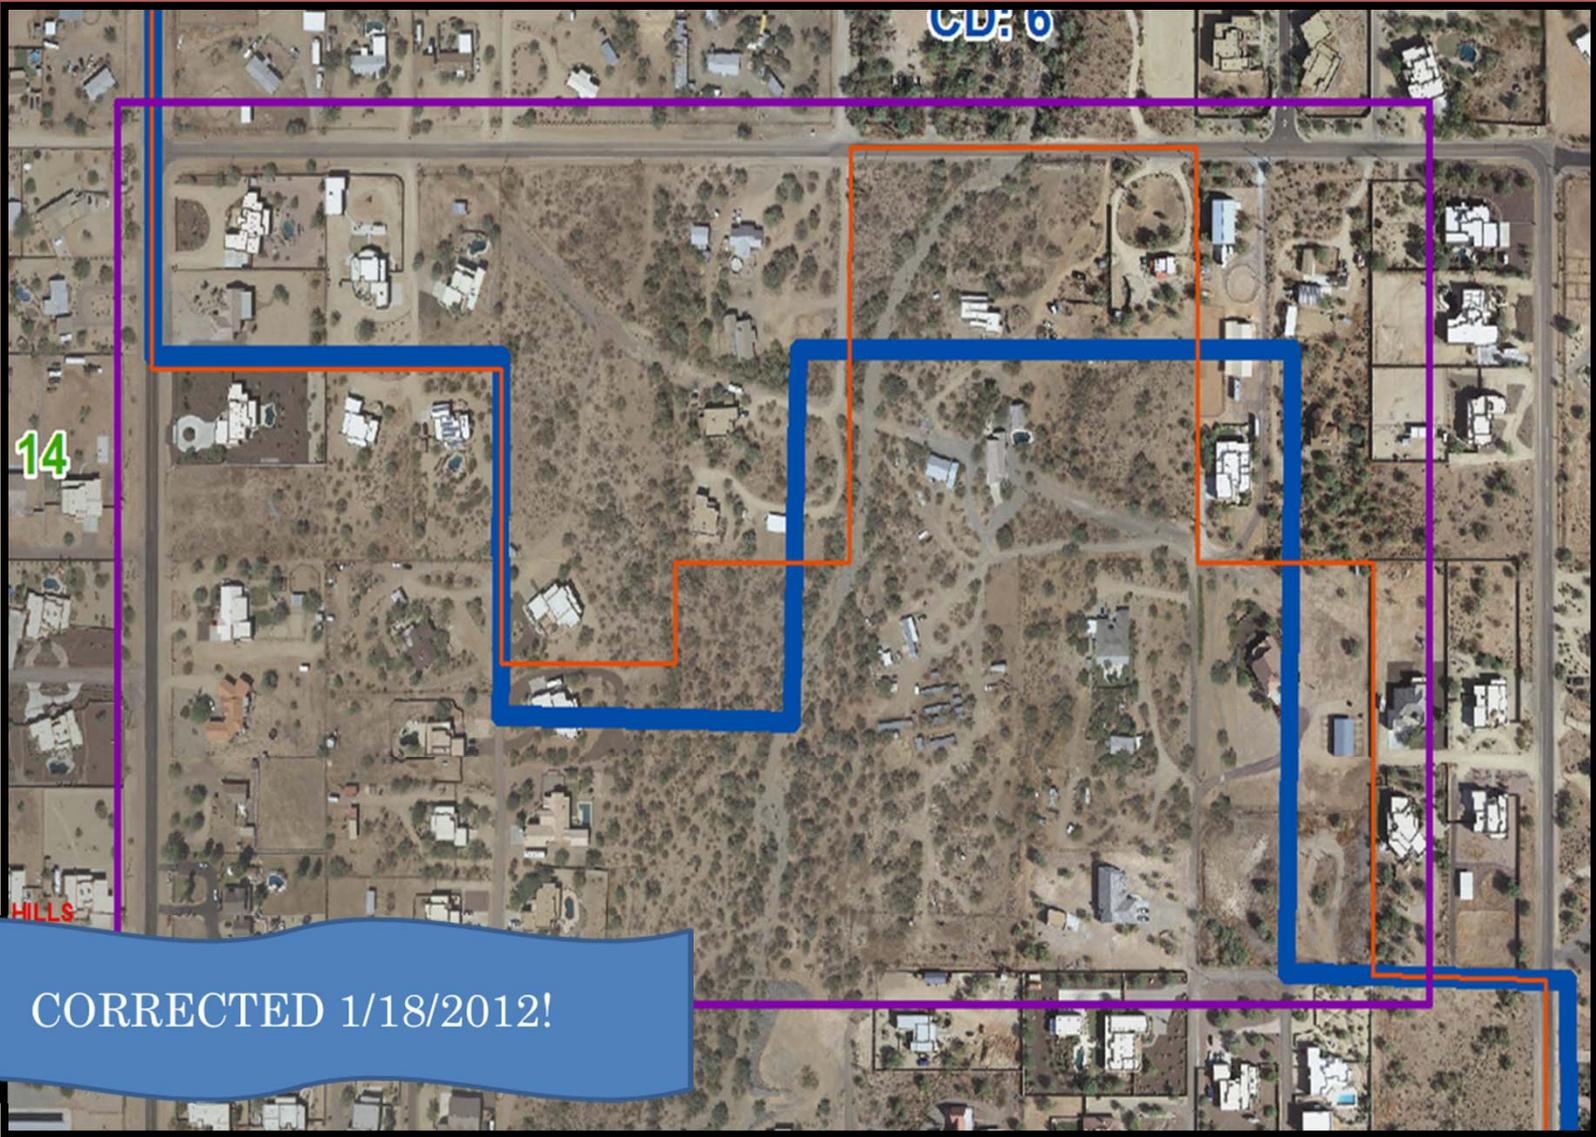

- Identifying, and coming to resolution on, these areas of concern has taken some time.
- In some cases it is a question of line placement in terms of feet.

- The mapping experts at IRC have worked very closely with our GIS staff in order to remedy the technical issues.

Front Porch or Back Deck?

- In some cases, it would seem that this is just a technical issue with the alignment of the Leg and Congressional lines:

CORRECTED 1/18/2012!

REDISTRICTING 2012

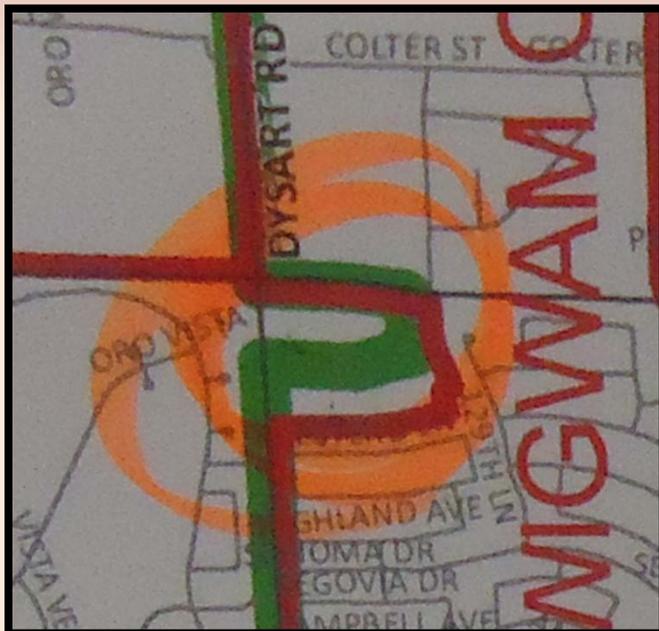

Technical Corrections

- Because MCED does geospatial coding of our voters, which is EXTREMELY accurate (to the centimeter), overlaying that data with traditional methods can identify inaccuracies.

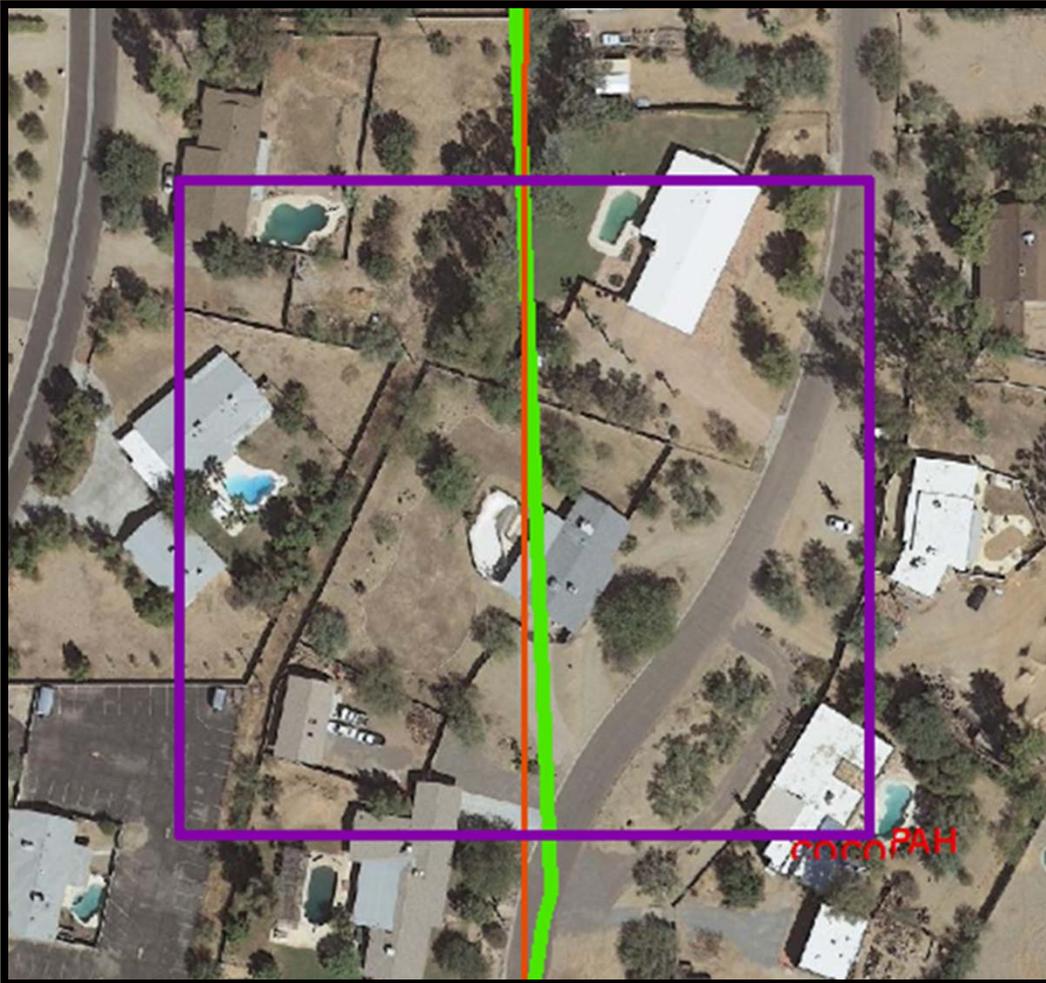

Technical Corrections

- Many of the areas were not in locations where there are homes/voters:

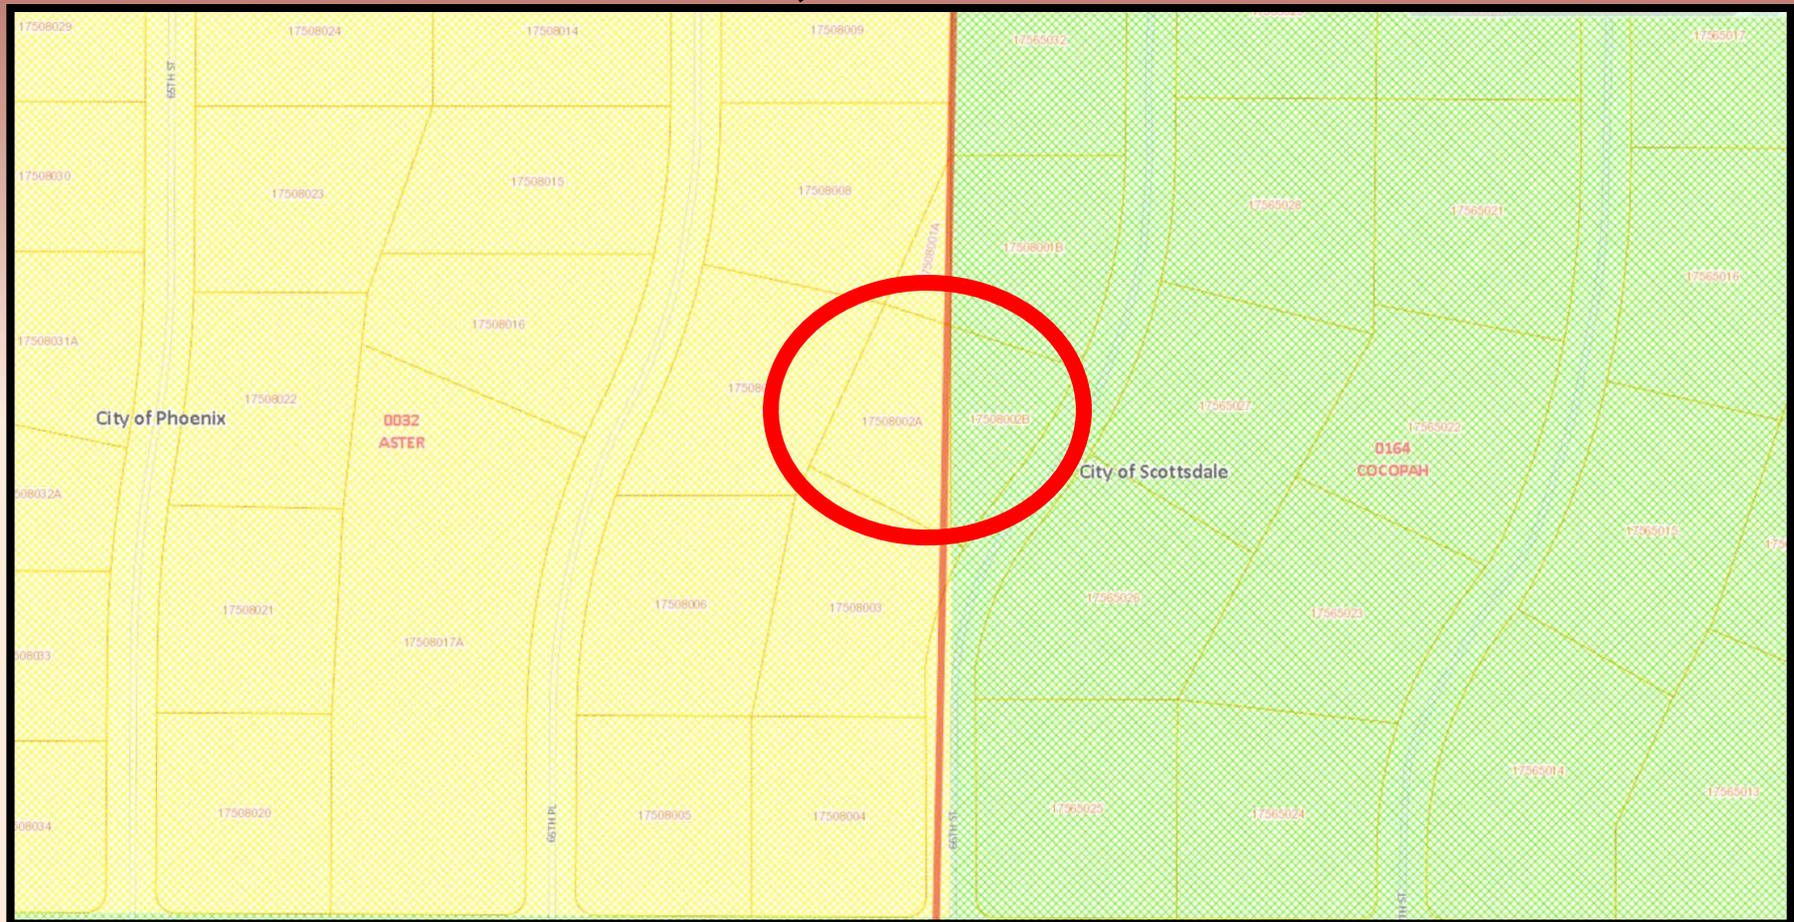

What's up with this one??

- Our voting precinct line also bisects this home... how could that happen?

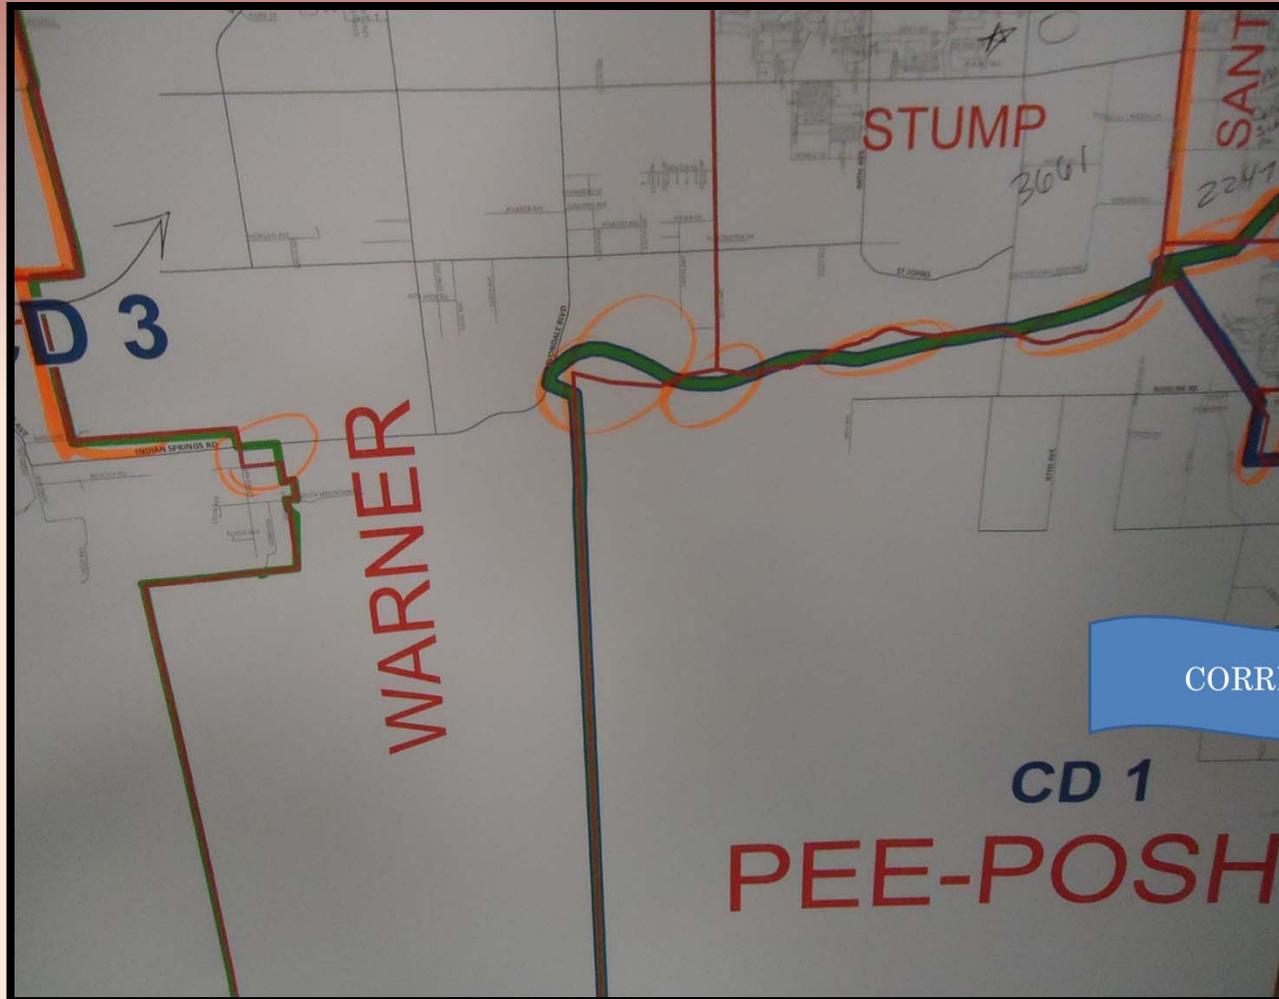

The house is on a double plot—half in Scottsdale, half in Phoenix!

The majority of the house sits in Scottsdale, so the voter has been placed on the east side of the line.

Technical Corrections

- Following tribal boundaries:

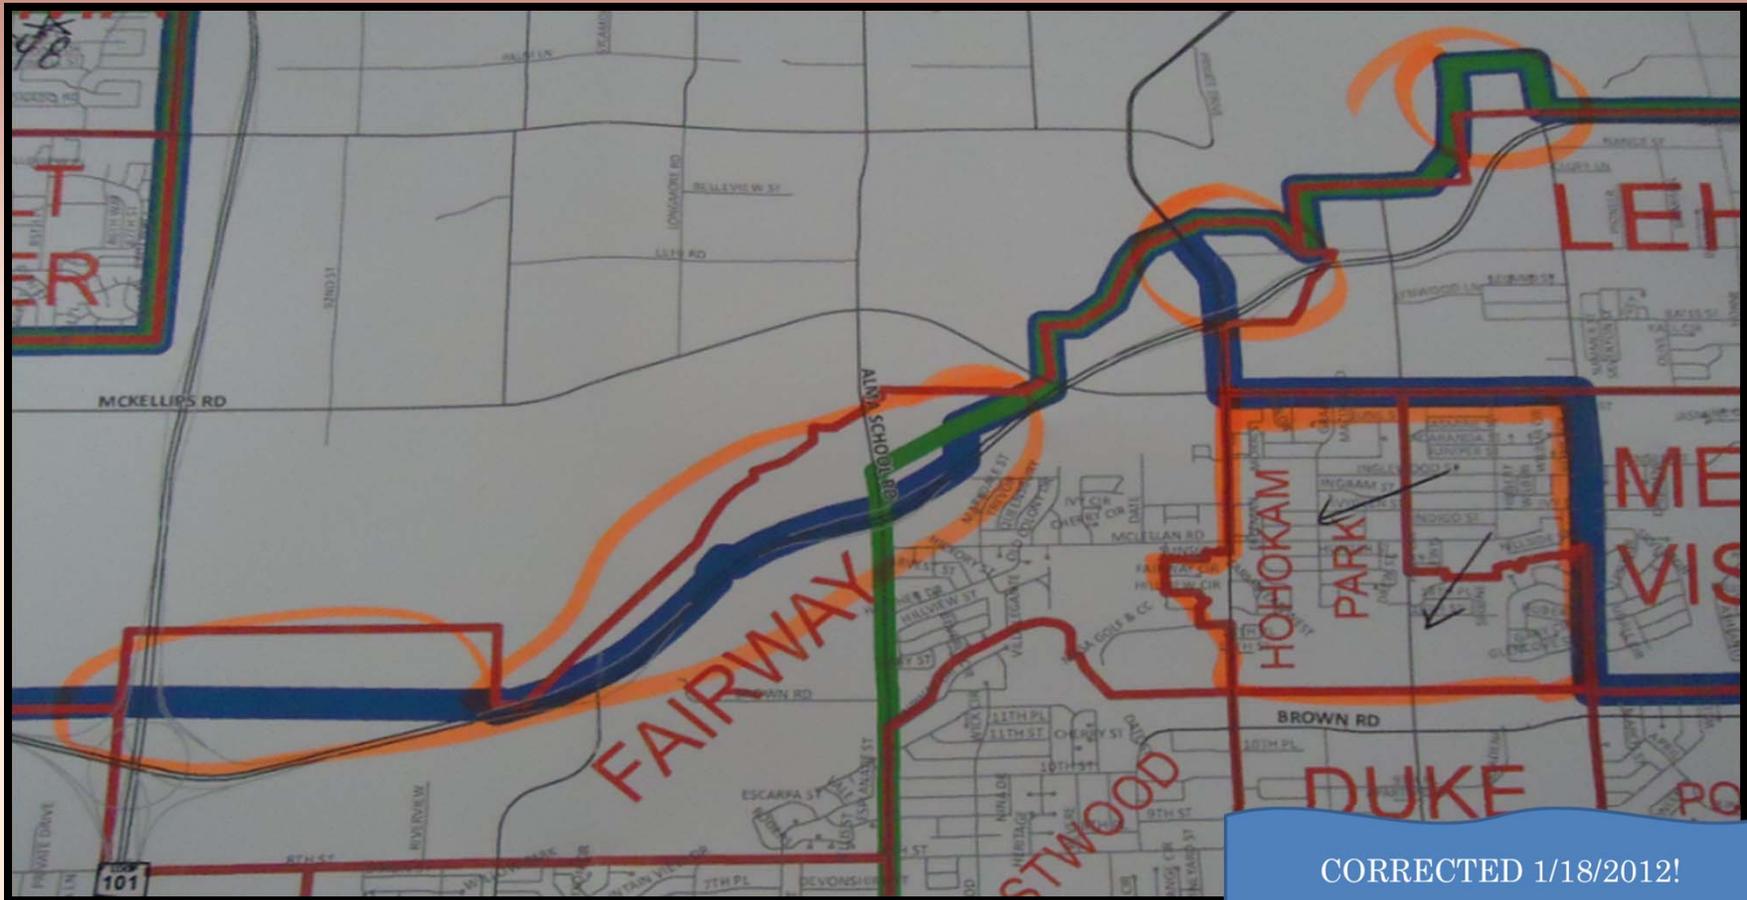

Gila River

Technical Corrections

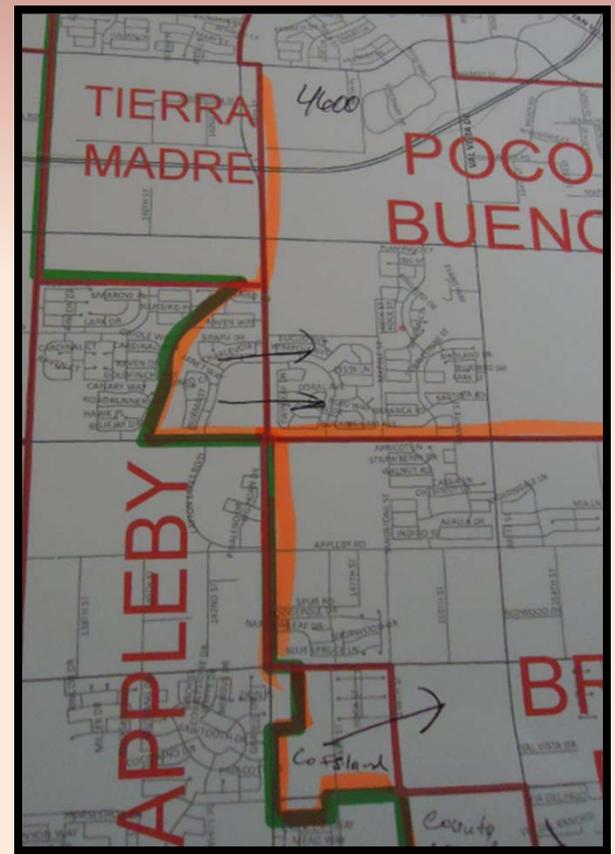

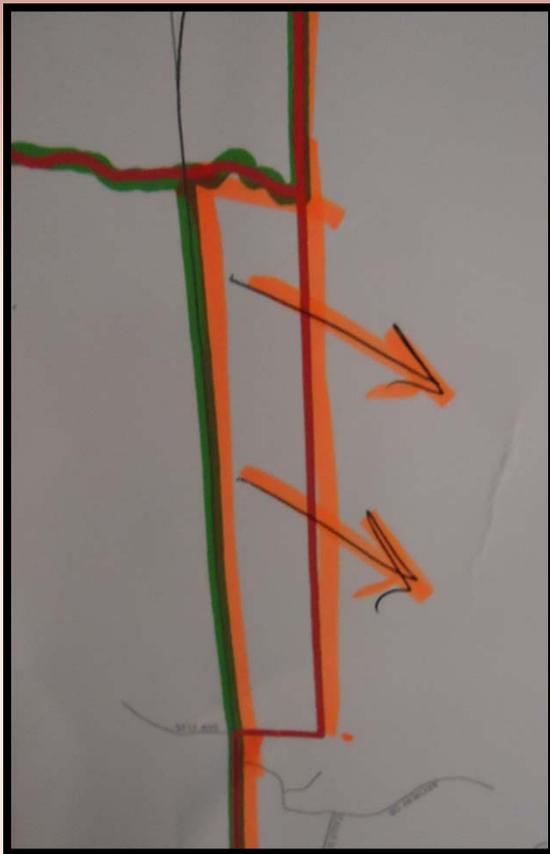

- This is the southern boundary of the Salt River Pima Maricopa Community, the highway was followed instead:

Technical Corrections

- Some technical corrections we can accomplish by moving the precinct line:

Technical Corrections

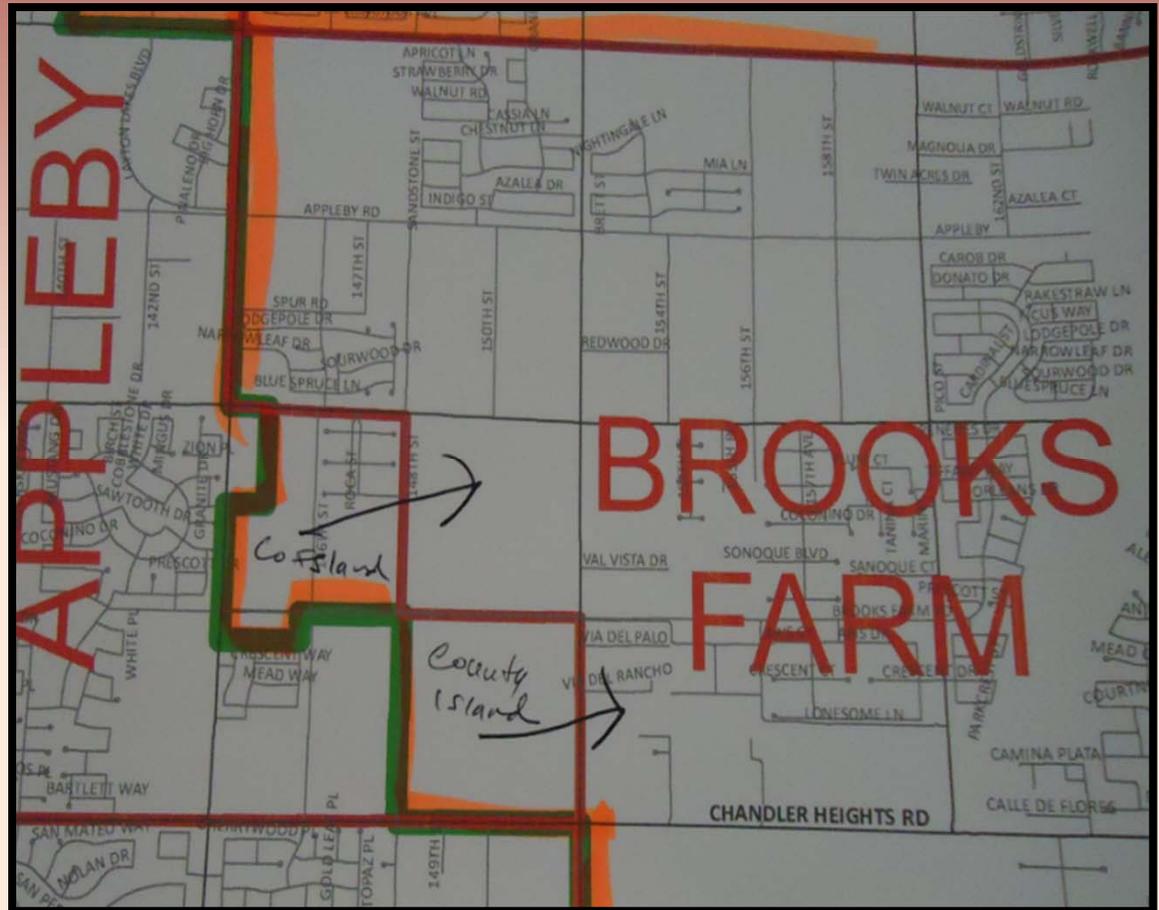

- Some technical corrections we can accomplish by moving the precinct line:

- Some of our precinct consolidations were reversed because of the IRC lines.

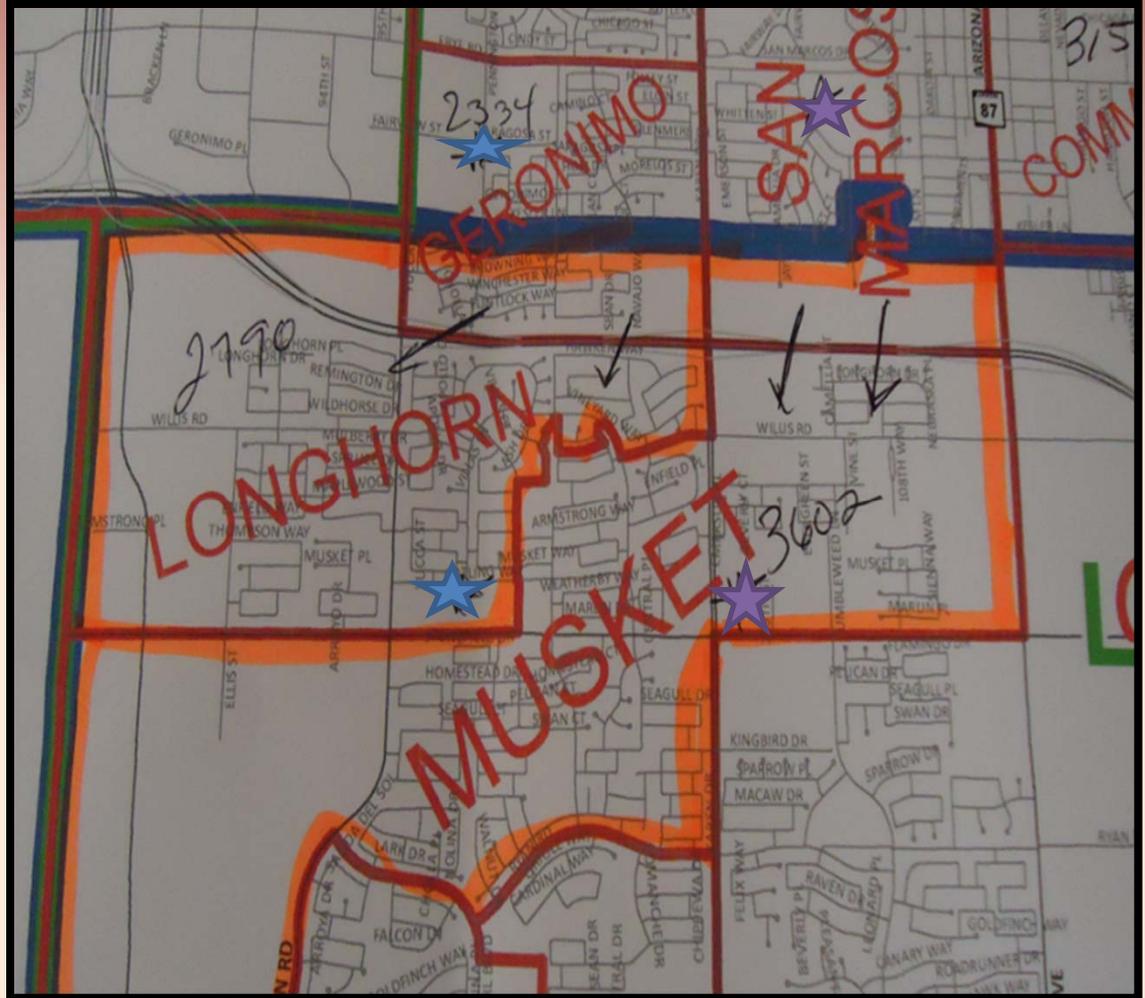

Technical Corrections

- Here we see how county islands impacted where the lines were drawn.

Ramifications: Distance Voter Must Travel

- Now voters will have to travel out of their neighborhoods and go further to reach their polling place.

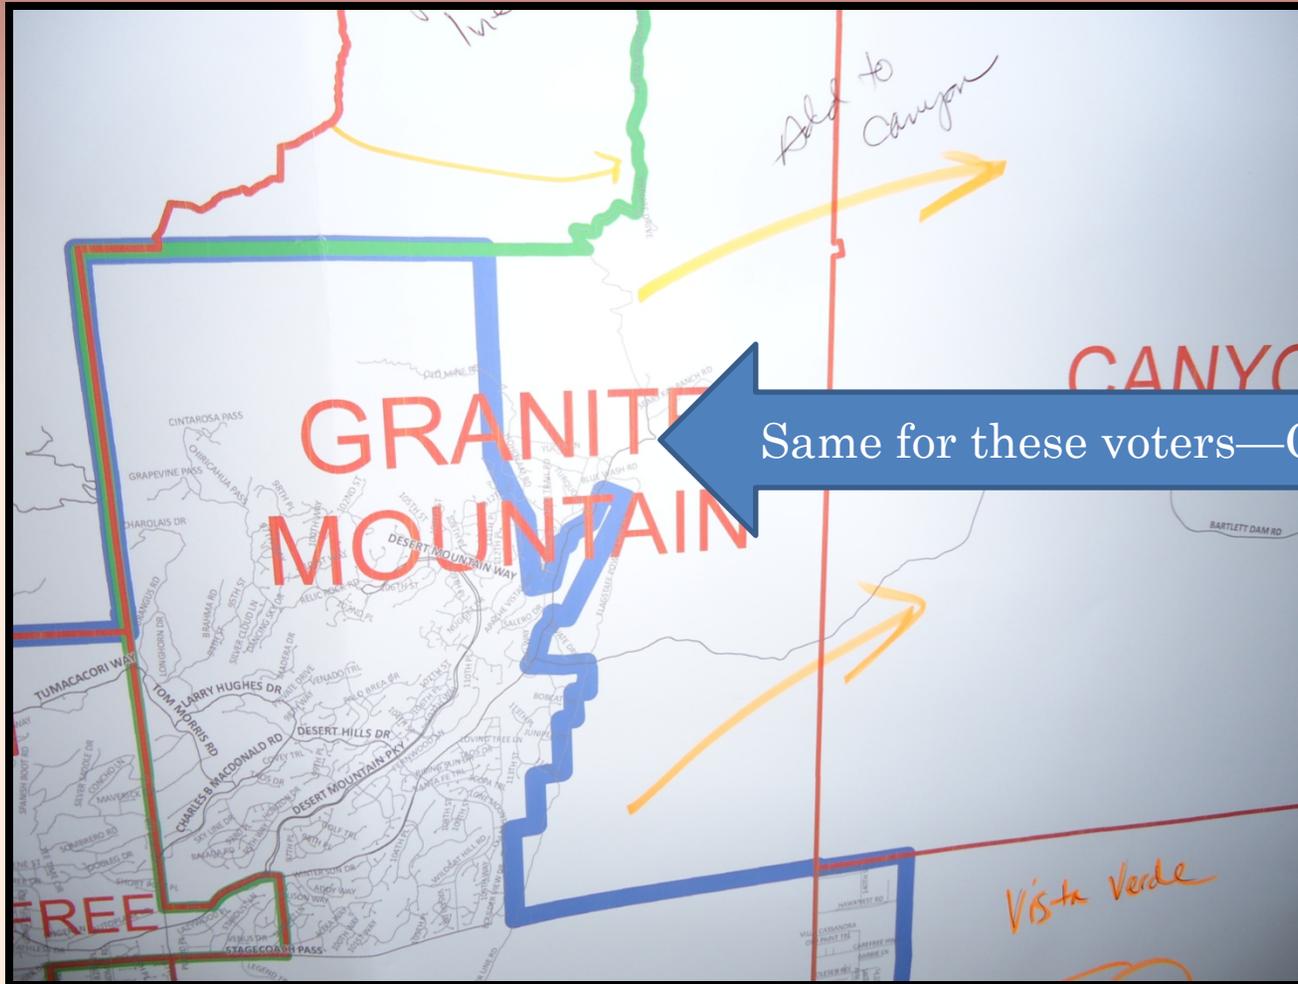

REDISTRICTING 2012

Ramifications: Distance Voter Must Travel

These voters will now have to travel way south to a new pollingplace.

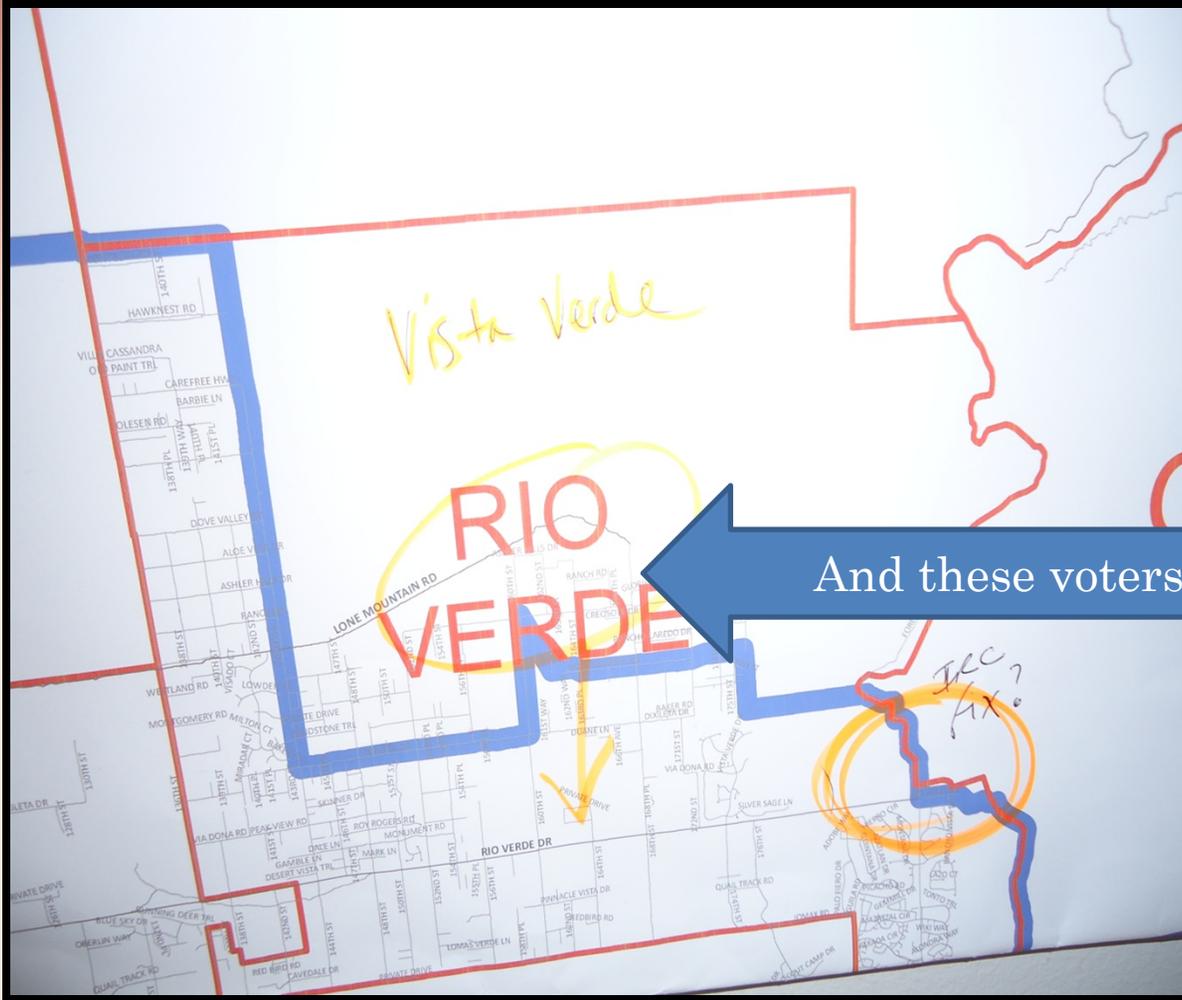

Ramifications: Distance Voter Must Travel

Same for these voters—Canyon had 0 voters

Ramifications: Distance Voter Must Travel

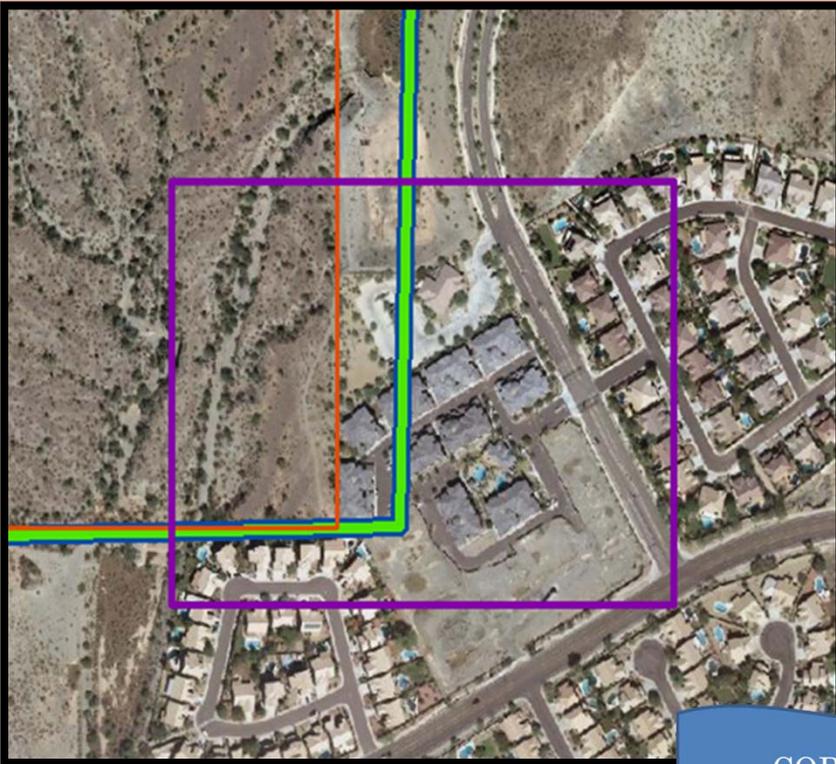

And these voters too

REDISTRICTING 2012

Ramifications: Distance Voter Must Travel

- Voters who live on the edge of their community/neighborhood and have been drawn into another district will have an inordinate distance to travel

CORRECTED 1/18/2012!

Ramifications: Precinct Splits

- Because municipal district boundaries were not always considered, numerous splits have been created. This drives up the cost of ballots.

Ramifications: Precinct Splits

- When there are multiple precinct splits it can cause confusion of the voters as well as workers at the polls.
- This could lead to a voter receiving the wrong ballot—one that they are either not entitled to vote, or omitting items to which they are entitled to vote on.

Ramifications:

Costs of Small Precincts

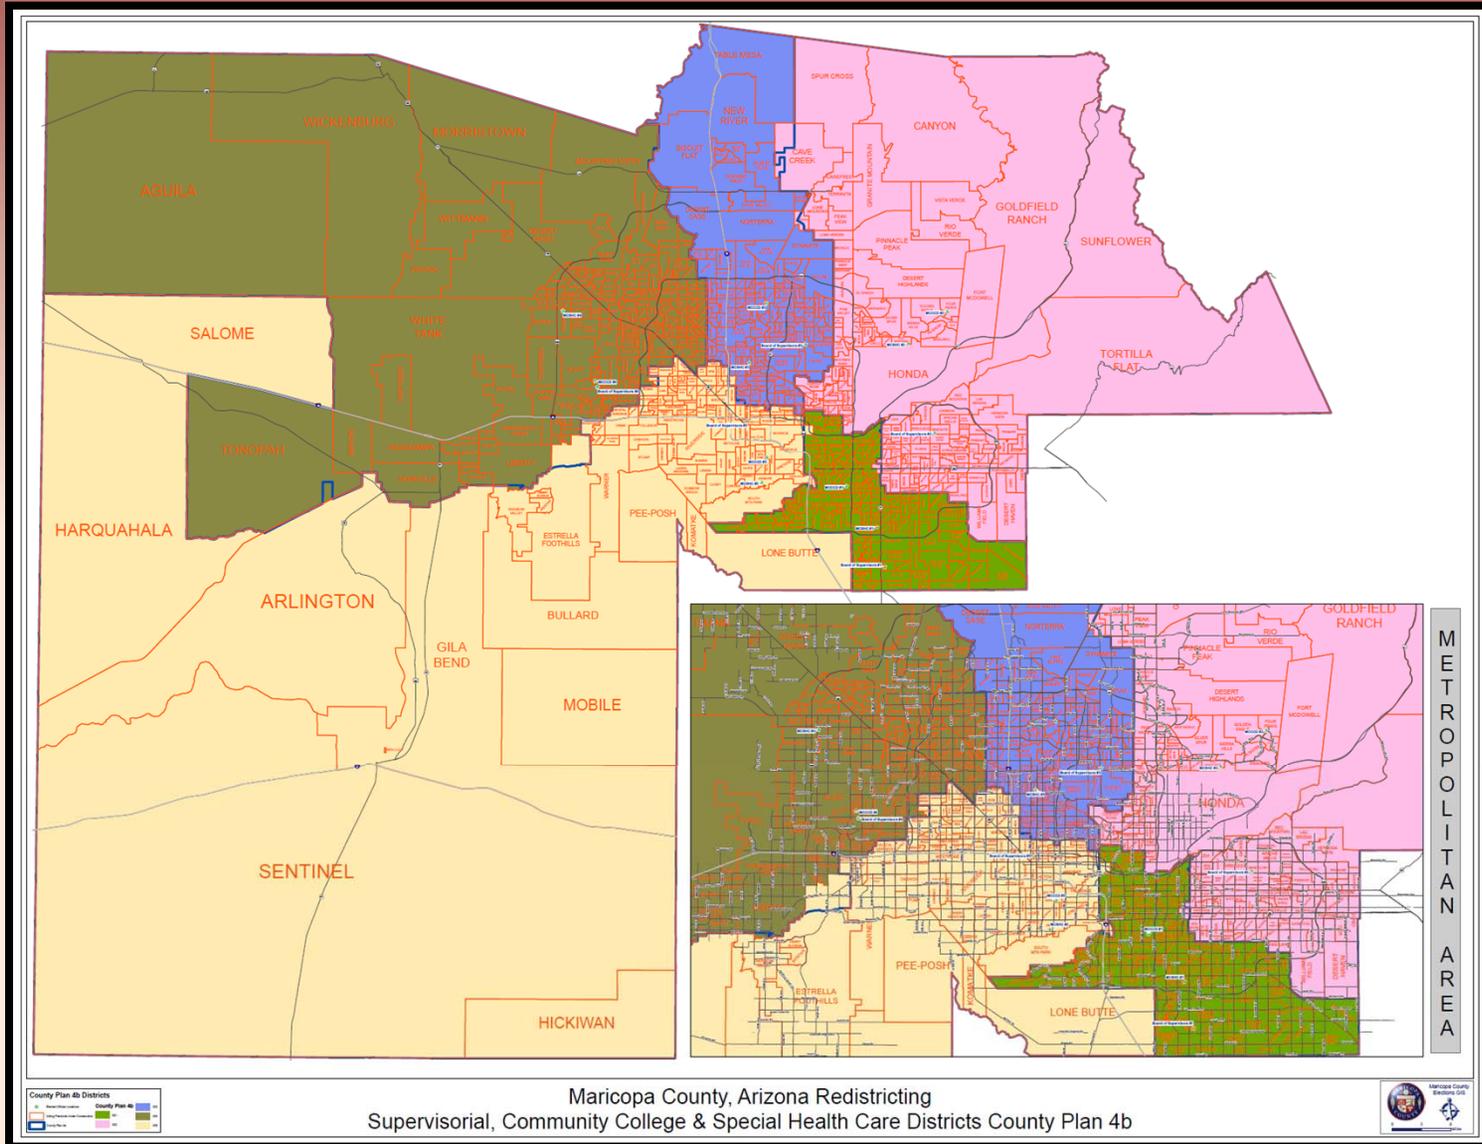

- In these areas where we have only a handful of voters, each precinct will require:
 - Precinct-specific ballots
 - Precinct-specific registers and rosters
 - Polling locations (except in a PPE)
 - Election board at the polls
 - Optical scan & DRE voting equipment
 - All applicable ballot boxes, booths, etc.

Ramifications: Dominoes

- It is important to remember that when one line changes it can impact all other district considerations:
 - BOS/MCCC/SHCD
 - Justice of the Peace/Constable
 - Voting Precincts

Comparison of Changes

- Where these changes impactful to the demographics from what we have already submitted to DOJ?
- Lets compare existing lines, our proposed/submitted lines, and the new Post-IRC lines to gage the variation.

This chart reflects the Census data referring to Total Minority Percentage of the population for the current lines, what was originally proposed, and the Post-IRC lines.

The difference between proposal & Post-IRC is what is listed to the right.

Demographics

- Demographic information will be included once completed.
- It will also be available on the MCED website.

Voting Precinct Changes

- We currently have 1142 precincts.
- Through consolidation of precincts we proposed 728 in our submission to DOJ (what we covered and discussed throughout 2011).
- With the IRC lines, some of those consolidations could not take place in totality so some precincts were divided up (precincts cannot be split by Leg or Con line), while others could be combined which were formerly bordered by such a line.
